Spotlight on the Artist

Hazel De Los Santos & Anna Polum

The term Carnegie Hall causes one to stop and listen when the notable structure is mentioned. It's even more notable when it's discussed in Kodiak and considerably more notable when placed in a sentence that reads "Hazel De Los Santos, from Kodiak, performed at Carnegie Hall and was selected to perform a solo." Now that is definitely notable no matter where you reside. There were two students from Kodiak who made the trip and participated in the annual event. The other student, Anna Polum, and De Los Santos were selected to audition for a national youth choir. They were two of 200 youths selected to not remarkable. For the choir director at Carnegie Hall, it was a surprise that they received their training on "the rock."

The two represented Kodiak extremely well and were able to experience New York for all its performing arts splendor.

Polum is off to college in the fall, as she'll be attending UAF to study music education. I suspect we'll be able to hear and hear from her while she pursues her calling.

As for Hazel De Los Santos, she has one more year of high school here in Kodiak, which for our community is a good thing. We'll be able to enjoy her fantastic voice for another year.

Petal Ruch continues to build strong performers as she begins a new school season. There is always a diamond in the rough that luckily finds its way to her studio. Petal helps make our local productions a professional product. She lends her skills to the stage and orchestra pit for all the shows in Kodiak.

You can experience all the splendor of Kodiak's talented performers through community and high school productions. There are a lot of events scheduled for this year so check our website calendar to see what's happening in Kodiak. We also display the PSA listings from KMXT's calendar.

participate in the choir. Applicants were culled from the U.S. and Canada.

And of course the journey to "the Hall" is one that should be shared as well. Both students have several things in common. They attend school together, participate in competitions together, rehearse together and have Petal Ruch as a coach. Which for us in Kodiak is
